Questions

Q132.Is there a need of master data management system for Customer, Supplier & Product?

If yes, what are different sources for customer, supplier, and product data? Is there a requirement to build an interface with the current source & target systems? Do you have global design for master data for example customer hierarchy, product taxonomy, product design, supplier & attributes etc...Can you please share us quantity of data number of customer & attributes, number of categories, product, attributes, and classes? Need of potential duplication / inconsistent data (Data Cleansing activity)

If No, Please share us your expectation on Master Data Management section (Refer Page 86) what are the deliverables expected for "consolidate & rationalize master data elements for customer" (refer page 86)?

A. Please refer to the response provided for Question 24.

Q189. How many reports exist in the current budgeting and forecasting process?

A. WMATA estimates up to 20 - 30 reports exits.
